No. 3. E. C. "DUTCH" STERNAMAN, Illinois

"Dutch" Sternaman, one of the team's coaches, has the unique distinction of always having played at left halfback. From the days of 1911-12-13-14, when he trotted out on the gridiron of the Springfield, Ill. high school, to his present activities on the Bears, he has continuously held down that job. From 1916 to 1919 "Dutch" played on the Illinois U varsity, with the exception of the year of 1918 when he was at Camp Funston, coaching the army eleven there. Sternaman has been a member of the Bears since the organization of the team and has won a name for himself as a field goal kicker. He made the trip with the Bears through the South and West in 1925-1926.

No. 7. GEORGE HALAS, Illinois

George Halas, right end and one of the coaches of the team, is a Chicago Boy, and graduated in 1913 from Crane Tech, where he starred four years at tackle and halfback. Transferring his allegiance to Illinois, he played at end on Bob Zuppke's eleven in 1915, 1916 and 1917. When the famous Great Lakes team traveled from coast to coast in 1918, beating some of the greatest teams in the country, Halas played end and was one of the coaches of the Great Lakes eleven. Played baseball with New York Yankees during first half of 1919 and finished season with St. Paul. Halas has been with the Bears since the team was organized, and has an enviable record at end. He made the trip with the Bears through the South and West in 1925-1926.

No. 77. HAROLD "RED" GRANGE, Illinois

This famous "Galloping Ghost" hails from Wheaton, Illinois, where he played on the high school football, baseball, basket ball, and track teams, in 1918, 1919, 1920 and 1921, and was captain in all four sports, and for two years captain of the basket ball and football teams. In 1922 he entered the University of Illinois and played varsity football in 1923-1924-1925, where he made football history known the world over. In 1925 he was captain. Red was All-American all three years of varsity competition. He also played baseball at Illinois in 1923 and 1924, and played center field when he was not pitching. He joined the Bears in 1925, then played with the New York Yankees in 1926 and 1927. Red is in good shape this year, and is 'rarin' to go'.

No. 2. "PADDY" JOHN L. DRISCOLL, Northwestern

Literally kicking his way to fame, "Paddy" Driscoll has made goal on an extraordinarily large number of football honors. At the Evanston High School in 1913-14, he played end and fullback, then in 1915 he entered Northwestern University, where he served an apprenticeship as freshman by playing quarterback, later being put in as left half. In 1916 he was captain at Northwestern, with Hammond in 1917, and in 1918 played on the Great Lakes eleven. 1919 was devoted to coaching at Northwestern University, but in 1920-21-22-23-24-25 "Paddy" captained the Chicago Cardinals, playing as half-back. This football star is reckoned as a noteworthy addition to the Bears. Besides playing with the Bears, "Paddy" is also coaching the St. Mel High School team. Driscoll was with the Bears in 1927.

No. 18. DON MURRY, Wisconsin

In "tackling" football, Don Murry made no mistake, for he developed into a first-class tackle. From 1914 to 1918, Murry played center with the Taylorville High School, beginning there his football career. Then he entered the University of Wisconsin and played right tackle on the freshman varsity. The two following years he played right tackle with the Taylorville Independents, returning in 1922 to Wisconsin, where he played right tackle on the varsity. 1923 was devoted to coaching St. Stevens college in New York and in 1924 he entered the professional football field playing with the Racine Legion team from which the Bears purchased him in 1924.

No. 19. EARL EVANS, Harvard

Evans got into football in 1915 when he played as tackle on the Albia, Iowa, High School team in that year and 1916-17-18, captaining the team in 1918. Entering Marquette University, he played as guard in 1920-21, and was chosen captain-elect for the season of 1922, but resigned because of transferring to Harvard University. He was tackle at Harvard in 1923, and did the job so effectively that he was selected as All-Eastern tackle and picked by the New York Sun as All-American tackle. In 1925, Evans played as tackle on the Chicago Cardinals, his first entrance into the professional football field, and he was purchased from the Cardinals by the Chicago Bears.

No. 8. ROY WHITE, Valparaiso

Roy White enrolled at the Brownwood High School and during his four years of service in the backfield, established a record that spread beyond the broad confines of the Lone Star State. Following his last prep year in 1919, he played at the Daniel Baker college the following three years, leading the outfit in 1922. He then collected additional laurels at Valparaiso in 1923-24. He is a triple-threat man. He played with the Bulls in 1926 and with the Bears in 1927 and 1928.

No. 13. GEORGE TRAFTON, Notre Dame

Trafton is a decidedly colorful member of the Bears, and holds down center in fine style. Chicago claims this football star, who was a member of Oak Park's famous teams from 1912 to 1915. In 1918, Trafton was at Camp Grant, and in 1919, started in the line for Notre Dame. Adding some coaching experience in the line at Northwestern University to his football training, Trafton joined the Bears in 1923, and has been throwing the opposition for losses ever since. He took the southern and western trip with the team in 1925-26. Trafton is a "Bear" and is always battling.

No. 9. WALTER HOLMER, Northwestern

Holmer played his first football in 1928 with the Moline, Illinois, High School team. He was also on the basket ball and track teams. He was All-State halfback when in high school. Walt entered Northwestern and played there in 1926, 1927 and 1928, and was captain in his last year. Walter Holmer and Paddy Driscoll are considered two of the greatest backfield men that ever played at Northwestern. Holmer made the All-Western and was mentioned on several All-American teams. His height is 6 ft. 1 in. and his weight is 190 lbs. There is no doubt that his punting and passing will be one of the features at Wrigley Field this fall.

No. 4. JOE STERNAMAN, Illinois

Since his entry into the professional football ranks, Joe Sternaman, quarterback, has proven to be one of its biggest box-office attractions. Starting in 1915, Sternaman played three years on the Springfield High School eleven, and on the University of Illinois freshman team in 1919, and the Varsity in 1920-21. He met with instant favor in professional circles in 1922 as a member of the Chicago Bears and the following season directed and played with Duluth, but finished with the Bears. His all-around ability has made him one of the most valuable and respected performers in the big leagues.

Go the Fans!

The Chicago Bears' Management thanks the fans for their loyal support of the 1929 team, although they did have an exceptional number of losses. However, the Management takes this opportunity of pledging a very much improved club in 1930.

Wishing you a Merry Christmas and a Prosperous New Year, we are

Sincerely yours,

He was on two Big Ten conference championship teams and captained the team in 1921. In those days the combination of "Walquist to Carney" was football's "Tinker to Evers to Chance". During his college career at Ohio State from 1922 to 1926, he played on the football and basket ball teams and was captain of the former in 1926. W. C. HAUK

W. C. Hauk stands first and foremost for clean sports. In the midst of an extremely busy life he has found time to do a hundred things to promote athletics, his enthusiasm turning the last few years to professional football, which he believes has a great future. Experience in professional baseball has been augmented by periods of management of semi-pro baseball clubs in Missouri and Illinois and he also umpired in the leagues of both states. Since interesting himself in professional football, "Colonel" Hauk, whose genial personality would impart success to any project, has been a confirmed booster and in his work as one of the publicity men for the Chicago Bears, has made a host of friends for the team.

This 200 lb. guard secured his early training at The Dalles, Oregon, where he attended high school from 1921 to 1925. He played on the football, basket ball, and track teams, and was captain of the football team in 1925 when it won the Oregon State Championship. His first year of varsity competition was at the Oregon Aggies in 1926 under the direction of Coach Paul Schissler. Last year Carlson played with the Oregon Aggies when they furnished one of the biggest upsets of the year in trouncing the New York University of New York City. Carlson was mentioned on Pop Warner's All-Coast Team for two years, and also on the All-American Team in 1928. This is his first year in professional football.

No. 15. WILLIAM FLECKENSTEIN, Iowa

Two years ago Fleckenstein stepped into the ranks of the professional football players when he joined the Bears. Fleckenstein starred in prep football at Faribault, Minn., when he put in the four years from 1917 to 1920, as tackle on the high school team there leading the team as captain the last year. In 1921, he was a regular on the Carlton College, Northfield, Minn., team; then in 1922 he entered the University of Iowa. His freshman year he made the varsity as right guard, in 1923-24, he played right guard. Fleckenstein is a hard-working guard and when he made the southern and western trip with the Bears in 1925-26, some clever work was chalked up to his credit.

No. 6. BILL SENN, Knox College

One of those athletes who annex honors as easily as picking them off bushes—that's what Bill Senn is. He started out at Macomb High School, where he put in three years of football and two on the track. With this background he entered Knox College, where in 1923, 1924 and 1925 he was captain of the team. In 1924, he was high point man with 108 points to his credit. That year he gathered in the further distinction of making the longest run of the year—104 yards for a touchdown; there was also a 98-yard touchdown from kickoff and a 55-yard drop kick. On the track he carried off honors in the 100 and 220 yard dashes in 1923-24 and '25. In 1925, in fact, he established two records, :9.9 for the 100-yard dash and :21.5 for the 220-yard dash. This is his fifth year with the Bears, having played with them the last four seasons.

No. 22. JOE KOPCHA, Chattanooga, Tenn.

With a fine record in varsity football to his credit while playing for three years with the University of Chattanooga, Joe Kopcha is the only representative from a Sunny South school with the Bears, although his home town is Whiting, Indiana. He attended the Whiting High School from 1920 to 1924, and starred in football, basket ball, baseball, track and swimming. He was also captain of the high school basket ball team. He played at the University of Chattanooga from 1925 to 1928. Joe also starred on the varsity basket ball and track teams. For two years he was picked as tackle on the All-South team, and received a Loving Cup for the best all-around athlete at the University of Chattanooga. Joe is ambitious and besides playing professional football is planning on attending the Rush Medical School.

... this UNION
BANKING IDEALS

50 years ago the State Bank of Chicago was established. Firmly entrenched in the minds of its founders were these fundamental principles: To counsel with men as neighbors. To win and merit the lifelong loyalty of friends.

67 years ago The Foreman National Bank was established. Its founders also lived and worked for an ideal: To deal humanly with clients. To make the institution a bank where people feel at home.

The policies of the two banks have always been so much alike that it was a logical sequence that one day they should unite—a union which will result in one bank of broader service and greater helpfulness to all who enter its doors.
