GIANTS AND BEARS LEAD

The Chicago Bears and the New York Giants, champions in the Western and Eastern Divisions continue to assert their supremacy in offensive play in the National Football League according to statistics compiled after the seventh week of play. The Giants are tops in point scoring and forward passing, while the Bears are supreme in yards gained.

The Bears now have 1856 yards gained, and the Green Bay Packers are second with 1548. The Giants have tallied 109 points to lead the Bears in scoring by nine points, and have completed 31 out of 66 passes for an average of 46%. Green Bay is third in scoring with 86 points.

Pittsburgh and Green Bay have completed more passes than the Giants, and the Bears have completed as many, but all of these teams have thrown over 100 aerials. The Detroit Lions are still the best defensive team, having held their opponents to 722 yards in five games. The least points have been scored against the Packers.

RULES OF MAJOR LEAGUE FOOTBALL

SUMMARIZED BY WILFRID SMITH

Professional football, in the past three seasons, has altered the code of rules under which colleges and universities play the game. The changes have not been numerous but they have been important.

The most important change permits forward passes to be thrown from any point behind the scrimmage line. The college rule permits forward passes from any point FIVE yards behind the scrimmage line.

In professional football the goal posts are on the goal lines.

Professional football declined to adopt the "dead ball" rule of the collegiate code.

Flying blocks and flying tackles are permitted in the professional game. The professional rule against clipping, that is, knocking down an opponent from the rear, is strictly enforced. The penalty is loss of 25 yards, as compared with the collegiate rule which penalizes infractions with the loss of 15 yards.

Professional players may be stationed any place on the field so long as they do not advance within 10 yards of the ball before it is kicked.

At the kickoff, the pros may kick from a dirt tee.

Substitute players may communicate with their teammates immediately on entering the game. Coaches must be notified when the limit of three times out have been taken in a half.

When the ball carrier is run out of bounds or is tackled at any point within 15 yards of the side line, the ball will be placed in play at a corresponding point 15 yards from the side of the field.

Offside penalties on the defense within its own 10 yard line have been minimized. Instead of loss of five yards, customary rule, the penalty in this area now is half the distance to the goal.

Here are the two most important changes in the pro rules for this fall:

1. A fumbled ball, except fumbles resulting from lateral passes, may be advanced by either team, no matter whether the ball strikes the ground or not. On fumbled laterals, the rule remains the same. The offense may recover and advance; the defense only may recover unless the ball is caught in the air. Then it may be advanced. Fumbled kicks may be recovered by the kicking team. They can not be advanced unless the receiver of the kick gains possession and then fumbles when tackled.

2. The penalty for two forward passes on the same down has been changed. In the past there have been several instances where a forward pass was completed successfully and after the ball had been advanced for a long gain, an attempted lateral pass actually became a second forward pass. Under the collegiate rule the ball is brought back to the point at which it originally was put into play. The new professional rule provides for a loss of FIVE yards from the point at the second and illegal forward pass.

A second incomplete forward pass in the end zone constitutes a touchback and loss of the ball to opponents on their 20 yard line. This is the rule in the collegiate code. It also is the professional rule unless the second incomplete pass into the end zone is thrown when the ball was put into play from a point back of the opponents' 20 yard line. In this case the ball passes over to the opponents at that point rather than the 20 yard line.

NEXT OPPONENTS AT THE POLO GROUNDS

JIM ZYNTELL
Philadelphia Eagles

Also with the Eagles will be several former Giant players, hoping to show up their former teammates. Hank Reese, ex-Temple player, is with the Eagles, playing center, after two seasons with the Giants, while Jim Zyntell of Holy Cross, is holding down a guard berth on the Quaker squad, as is Tubby Shaub, the ex-George Washington High and Cornell lineman, who was with the Giants this fall.

While the Giants are absent from the Polo Grounds, New York pro grid fans will not be without action, since the Brooklyn Dodgers will be in Ebbets Field both Sundays. Pittsburgh's rampant Pirates, winners in their two most recent starts, invade Brooklyn next Sunday, and the following week the Chicago Cardinals come back to New York to meet their former mentor's new club.

The Giants will be away from the Polo Grounds for the next two Sundays, but return here on Sunday, November 24, to meet the Philadelphia Eagles, who seem to have the habit of improving toward the end of the season each year. Last fall it was the Eagles who handed the Giants their sole defeat by an Eastern team, and the year before in the final game with Lud Wray's charges it took a last minute touchdown to win 20-14.

The Eagles this season bring a backfield headed by Izzy Weinstock, Pitt all-America last year, Jim Leonard, of Notre Dame fame, and Swede Hanson, whose runs almost beat the Giants a year ago in Philly.
