LEEMANS, RICHARDS GAINERS

Tuffy Leemans and Kink Richards are beginning to creep up on Hank Soar in the race for individual ground gaining honors among the New York Giants players and all three Polo Grounders are now among the top ten of the league. Ed Danowski continues to be the best Giant passer with 22 completion in 30 attempts while Richards is not only tied for scoring lead with 18 points but has caught seven passes for 110 yard gain. Ward Cuff, Marquette rookie, is tied with Richards for the scoring lead.

The Pirates Are Tough

That is what the Giant players felt after they faced the Pittsburgh eleven a month ago in the Smoky City to eke out a 10 to 7 victory. It was the toughest victory the Giants won on the road and the invasion next Sunday of Johnny Blood and his fiery crew means a busy afternoon for Coach Steve Owen's huskies.

Johnny Blood, one of the two playing-coaches now in the National League, is a familiar figure to Polo Grounds fans for his brilliant play with the Green Bay Packers over the years. Johnny is having one of his best seasons and is right among the leading scorers of the league for he has done some remarkable pass catching so far this year.

In addition to Blood the Pirates have John Karcis, pile-driving full-back from Carnegie, who is having a great season. Karcis has plowed through the opposition lines for substantial gains and is among the top ground gainers of the circuit. Byron Haines, all-America back from Washington last fall, is one of the slipperiest safety men in the circuit, and these men operating behind a big tough line gave the Giants trouble in Pittsburgh and figure to do the same here. Last fall it was one of the toughest games of the season, the Giants winning 13 to 0 after being held scoreless for a half.

Victory in this game will be all important to the Giant cause since following the Pirate invasion will come the Detroit Lions, the Green Bay Packers and then the Redskins. So unless the New York eleven can hurdle this Eastern rival it means an almost insurmountable task to dethrone the Redskins from the Eastern championship and gain the play-off berth on December 12.

We would like to call your attention at this time to the fine showing Tuffy Leemans, Giant ace ball carrier, has been making since he returned to action three weeks ago. Tuffy has averaged 80 yards per game for his three games and if he had not been injured in the opener would unquestionably be giving Cliff Battles of the Redskins plenty of trouble in the race for ground gaining honors.

Also do not overlook how important a figure Kink Richards is in the Giant running attack. The slippery back from Simpson College has been over the 500 yard mark for the past two seasons and with 218 yards gained in the first five this season appears to be on his way to that charmed circle again this fall.

Tickets for the Pirate game will go on sale tomorrow morning in the office of the New York Football Giants, 11 West 42nd St., Room 1740. We would like to remind you also at this time that if you desire to be sure of your seat locations for the balance of the season it is possible to reserve the same seats for the remaining games when you purchase your seats for the Pirate clash.

NEW PASSING MARK DUE

A new record for National Football League forward passing efficiency is likely this season with a total all over the circuit at the half-way mark 2% better than last year's record 36%. In addition to an aggregate league record, Washington, Green Bay and the Chicago Cardinals are in a thrilling battle for team passing laurels with either of them capable of establishing a new record at the conclusion of the eleven game schedules.

Washington is leading at present with 65 completions in 146 tosses for 44%, but Green Bay and the Cardinals are close behind with 43% and 42% respectively. These marks are all better than the record 41% established last season by the Green Bay Packers.

Green Bay, in addition to being only 1% away from the passing lead, continues to lead the ground gainers and scorers. The Packers gained 1,902 yards in five games for 317 yards per game. New York is second with a 277 average in five games, and Washington third with a 250 average in six games. Green Bay has 139 points to lead Detroit's 107 points for scoring honors.

New York has undisputed claim to defensive laurels, having held opponents to 653 yards and 27 points in five games. The Bears club, which meets the Giants next Sunday, is second best defensively.

KNOW PRO FOOTBALL

Complete records of all players and teams of the National Football League, the playing code and other pertinent information regarding pro football is contained in the National Football League Guide which can be obtained at all Spalding's stores and also in most other sporting goods stores.

THE NATIONAL FOOTBALL LEAGUE

Following are the major differences in rules between professional and college football games:

The goal posts are placed on the goal line.

The ball must be put in play at least 15 yards in from the sideline, being moved 15 yards in after any play that ends closer than 15 yards to the nearest sideline.

The penalty for clipping from behind is 25 yards.

The ball is NOT dead when a player slips or is thrown to the ground, the ball being in play until the whistle is blown.

Defensive linemen are allowed to use their hands on the head, face or bodies of offensive players.

Fumbles, except on punts or lateral passes, may be advanced. Punts and lateral pass fumbles may be advanced only after "possession and advance" has been established.

Substitutes may talk with teammates immediately upon entering the game.

A forward pass may be thrown from any spot behind the line of scrimmage.

On a forward pass followed by an illegal lateral pass (the second pass being forward instead of lateral or backward) the ball is put in play at a point 5 yards behind where the illegal pass was thrown.

On the kickoff the receiving team does NOT have to have five men within its 45 yard line.

The flying block and flying tackle are permitted.

Penalties within the ten-yard line are only half the distance to the goal line.
