NATIONAL FOOTBALL LEAGUE INDIVIDUAL STATISTICS

Several new players appear among the leading ground gainers and scorers of the National Football League this week. With Earl (Dutch) Clark, of Detroit and Colorado, on the sidelines last Sunday, his chief rivals in point-getting picked up ground.

Jack Manders, of the Chicago Bears and Minnesota, now has 62 points, only ten behind Clark, while Beattie Feathers, with nine touchdowns, has 54, one point ahead of Ken Strong of New York and Glenn Presnell of Detroit, the two who tied for leading point-getting honors in 1933. Both are tied again at 53 points.

Ralph Kercheval, recruit Brooklyn back from Kentucky, jumped into the picture by tallying ten points against Pittsburgh. He has scored 33 points, more than half the total of the entire Brooklyn team. Ernie Caddell's three touchdowns for Detroit against St. Louis enabled the former Stanford star to total 36, only one point less than Cliff Battles of Boston and Harry Newman of New York.

Feathers' bid for 1,000 yards in ground gaining was thwarted by the Giants, but he will need to gain only 38 yards against the Cardinals on Sunday to top the 1,000 yard mark. There are five other backs—Swede Hanson of Philadelphia, Clark, Battles, Warren Heller of Pittsburgh, who has joined New York, and Newman—who have gained over 500 yards.

In forward passing Newman, with 35 completed in 93 attempts for 370 yards, has an average of 35%, and since he is through for the season, this mark will probably be surpassed by Heller, who has completed 32 in 114 for 511 yards, Arnold Herber of Green Bay, who has 30 in 66 for 562 yards, and Clark, who has completed 20 in 41 for 355 yards. Ben Smith, of Pittsburgh, wound up his season by catching twelve passes for 190 yards, a mark for the other receivers to aim at for the next two weeks.

An Ode to the Giants

No team in all my memory
E'er battled on to victory
With greater vim or showed more fight,—
(No wonder I'm inspired to write!)
Yes, all these lads, it seems to me,
Outgame their foes consistently,
Refusing to admit defeat,—
Keeping cool 'mid gridiron heat.
Fall furnishes each year, you see,
On Sundays opportunity
Of watching stars with names renowned
Try all their tricks in gaining ground.
Believe me, these boys know their stuff,
A Pro League player must be tough,—
Learning, even after college,
Lots of further football knowledge.
Give me a team which shows real class
In kicking and the forward pass,—
A team with such defensive skill
No foe can ever gain at will.
These football traits, I must confess,
Spell out the GIANT team's success!

By Tom McCarthy

The New York Giants will close their local season Thursday in Brooklyn. If the Giants win today and on Thanksgiving Day the play-off for the world title will be contested here Dec. 9, with no advance in prices over the usual admission.

The National Football League Revised Rules

Season 1934

In all instances other than in the exceptions noted herein the rules of the National Intercollegiate Athletic Association, including changes made for 1934, are to be followed:

KICK-OFF AND FREE KICK

1. The receiving team may line in any position beyond the ten yard restraining line.

2. It is permissible for the kicking team to use a natural tee made from the soil in the immediate vicinity of the point of kick-off.

OFF-SIDE PLAYS

On all off-side plays committed within the ten yard line by the defensive team, the penalty shall be one-half the distance to the goal instead of five yards.

PLAYER ENTERING THE GAME

A player entering the game shall be permitted to communicate with his teammates immediately, instead of waiting until one play has been completed.

FLYING BLOCK AND TACKLE

The flying block and flying tackle are permitted.

FORWARD PASS

1. The passer may pass the ball from any point behind the line of scrimmage.

2. A forward pass made hand-to-hand back of the line of scrimmage, which becomes incomplete, is to be ruled a fumble.

TIME OUT

Officials must notify the COACH of each team when time has been out three (3) times—and no penalty is to be imposed for additional time out unless such notice has been given.

DEAD BALL

In Rule 7—Section 7—Article (1a) of the Intercollegiate rules omit the words "when any portion of his person except his hands or feet touches the ground."

PERSONAL FOULS

Use of hands—In Rule 10—Section 2—Article 1—Item 2 of the Intercollegiate Rules, omit the words "players on defense may not strike the opponent on the head, neck, or face with the palms of their hands".

CLIPPING

The penalty for clipping shall be 25 yards—officials shall enforce this rule to the letter.

GOAL POSTS

The goal posts shall be placed on the goal-line instead of ten yards beyond.

Because of the goal posts being placed on the goal-line the following rules become effective:

1. A ball kicked from the field of play, except one scoring a goal, which strikes the goal posts or cross-bar before being touched by a player of either side, shall become a dead ball and is to be ruled a touchback.

2. A ball kicked from behind the goal-line which strikes the goal posts or cross-bar and is recovered by the opponents in the end zone shall be ruled a touchdown. In the event it is recovered by a player of the kicking team, or rolls outside the side line extended, or beyond the end line in the end zone, it shall be ruled a safety. Should the ball strike the goal posts or cross-bar and continue into the field of play it shall be played as if it did not hit the goal posts.

3. A forward pass thrown from the field of play which strikes the goal posts or cross-bar before or after it has been touched by an eligible player and before it has touched the ground shall be declared incomplete and ruled a touchback.

4. A forward pass thrown from behind the goal-line which strikes the goal posts or cross-bar shall be subject to recovery by the opposing team or any eligible player of the passing team before it strikes the ground. (The passer is included among the eligible men.) Should the ball be recovered by an opposing player within the end zone before it strikes the ground it shall be ruled a touchdown. If it is recovered by a member of the passer's team and not advanced into the field of play, or bounds beyond the side line extended, or beyond the end line, it shall be ruled a safety. Should the ball strike the goal posts or cross-bar and continue into the field of play it shall remain in play as though it had not touched any obstruction.

TEAM STATISTICS

The championship Chicago Bears continue to pile up offensive marks while the Detroit Lions, their unbeaten rivals in the western title race, are still setting the pace on defense. The Bears have gained 3,270 yards and scored 240 points, only four short of the 1933 record total set by the Giants. The Lions have allowed only 1,393 yards in ten games and only 27 points have been scored upon them.

In forward passing Pittsburgh with 60 completed passes in 175 tosses, Green Bay with 56 in 140 attempts, and the New York Giants with 41 in 109 attempts, are in a virtual tie for aerial honors.

SCHOLASTIC PLACE-KICKING FINAL

The final of the New York Giants' Scholastic Place-Kicking Competition is to be conducted today. The contestants are winners of the sectional qualifying rounds conducted here on past Sundays. Instead of starting on the 20-yard line, today's kicking will begin at the 25-yard mark.

The competitors, who will draw lots for order of kicking, are:

Guy Segatti, of DeWitt Clinton, winner of Bronx P. S. A. L. division.

Robert Connolly, of New Rochelle, winner of Westchester.

Fritz Severud, of Bogota, champion of Bergen County, N. J.

Tom Chase, of Roosevelt, winner of Manhattan-Richmond P. S. A. L. test. Chase belonged in the Bronx division but had to postpone his appearance, owing to injuries.

Charles Cashman, of Xavier, winner of Manhattan-Bronx private schools.

The winner today will receive the New York Giants' Trophy.

Martin Remore, of Fort Lee, won the New York Giants' drop-kicking contest last year.
