Chicago Cardinals with Four Former Jackets Here Today

Chamberlin, Springsteen, Hap Moran and Ben Jones of Last Year's Champions with Opposition.

Guy Chamberlin

Today we witness the game that hundreds of local fans have been waiting for—Chicago Cardinals vs. Frankford Yellow Jackets. The greatest rivalry exists between these two teams, due to the fact that with the Cardinals are Guy Chamberlin, last year's coach of the World's Champion Yellow Jackets, and Ben Jones, Bill Springsteen and Hap Moran, all members of last year's Frankford eleven. Hap Moran was also a member of this year's team; several weeks ago, he played his last game with Frankford against the New York Giants.

On this year's Jacket eleven who played with the above last year are Homan, Wilcox, Ed. Weir, Comstock, Reed and Youngstrom. So it will be practically a battle between two Jacket elevens.

Chamberlin, Jones, Springsteen and Moran were very popular with hundreds of local fans, and are here to prove that they are still of chamampionship calibre. Last year Chamberlin led the Frankford eleven to a great victory over the Cardinals by the score of 33-7. This year he leads the Cardinals against his former teammates to avenge that defeat.

The Cardinals, like Frankford, have not been hitting their usual stride this season, being down in the league standing along with Frankford, but don't worry about Guy not having his Windy City eleven primed for this battle, and you can look for the former Frankford quartet to give their all.

Chamberlain has a team that has in its lineup many of the country's best players. Besides the Frankford players he has the famous Duke Slater, Negro tackle, who won All-American fame at Iowa, and Buddy Weller, who was a teammate of Ed. Weir at Nebraska.

Speed Ellis, former All-American at Detroit, Willie Chief Brennan, right guard, who has been with the team nine years, and Mickey McDonnell, a halfback, who learned his pro-football at Duluth, and who with Al Nesser, of the New York Giants, is one of the few sand-lotters now able to make the pro-grade, are also on the visitors' squad.

Jim Mullaney, assistant trainer and mascot of the Yellow Jackets last year, is with the Cardinals and will "strut his stuff" along the sidelines.

The Cardinals have been in town all week and have been practicing daily.

Jackets Spring Surprise Walloping Cleveland Bulldogs---22-0

Rogers and Mercer Star in Greatest Victory of Season. Kassel Makes 88-Yard Run.

Benny Friedman and his Cleveland Bulldogs entered the hive of the Jackets last Saturday and were stung to the tune of 22 to 0.

Cleveland entered the game a 2 to 1 favorite but it turned out to be Frankford's day—all the king's horses and all the king's men could not have stopped that Jacket horde last Saturday. Any team in the league would have fallen before their terrific onslaught. Through the air, around the ends, and through the line they thundered, the overhead offensive being the finest ever displayed by a local eleven. Friedman came here noted for being the greatest passer of all time, but was beaten at his own game. He also fumbled twice, one of which netted a touchdown for Frankford, after an 88-yard run by Kassel in the final period.

Benny threw a scare into the local fans when two of his passes carried the ball nearly the whole length of the field right at the start. But at the 8-yard line the Jackets held; a punting duel followed.

At the opening of the second period, Frankford launched an aerial attack, carrying the ball to the 11-yard line. Here they were stopped so Mercer booted a field goal. Again

Frankford had Cleveland to the wall and a bad pass resulted in a safety by Maxwell. Another aerial attack with Rogers on the receiving end carried the ball to the 10-yard line. Held again, Mercer made the point total 8 by booting another 3-pointer. Following the kick-off, 2 passes, Mercer to Rogers, scored a touchdown, after a beautiful run of 15 yards by Rogers in which he reversed his field and reached the last chalk mark. Mercer added the extra point.

Interference was fine when Kassel made his long run and he was entirely protected. Interference by Ford allowed Charlie Rogers to start on many a run and he ran wild. Mercer's toe seemed to be inspired; even when he kicked against the wind he kicked accurately. Wilcox and Fitzgibbons were both in the game and made substantial gains, while the line held when the home goal was menaced or kicking was made necessary.

The old Yellow Jacket spirit was in evidence; players, cheer leaders, band, spectators—the entire crowd was on its feet many times during the game.

Cleveland Bulldogs Snap Back at Jackets in Sunday Tilt---37-0

Friedman's Avalanche of Passes Proves Disastrous for Locals.
(By "CHARLIE" ROGERS)

"BENNY" FRIEDMAN

The Frankford Yellow Jackets fell beneath an avalanche of forward passes last Sunday at Cleveland and returned home on the short end of a 37 to 0 score.

Many who witnessed the game of last Saturday could not understand how our team could have such a reversal of form on Sunday. Those who witnessed the Sabbath Day contest could understand the result far better. The reason was that every break in the Sunday game went against the Jackets and that Benny Friedman became uncanny in his aerial tosses.

Despite the fact that the eligible receivers were covered closely, most of the time Friedman managed to throw the pigskin with such remarkable accuracy that the local boys could not possibly knock them down.

Scarcely a minute of the game had elapsed before Cleveland scored. This first tally was the result of a peculiar circumstance. Frankford had the ball on its own two-yard line after stopping four successive Bulldog line thrusts. Mercer dropped back to punt but did not notice that the end zone was only five yards wide instead of the regulation ten. Thus he was only about seven yards from the line of scrimmage when he kicked. The result was that the kick was blocked and Cleveland scored a safety. The Bulldogs have a ground rule which permits ball to be moved out five yards from the goal line under such a condition but the locals were not informed of this rule.

The two points changed the entire aspect of the game. It forced Frankford to assume the offense in an effort to wipe out the small lead by scoring a touchdown. The first local aerial that was attempted, however, was intercepted by a Cleveland back and the latter ran to the Frankford twenty-yard line before finally being downed. Friedman then uncorked an aerial

Britton, Grange's Running Mate, Signs with Jackets

Will Start at Fullback Against Cardinals Today.

Was Here with Dayton.

EARL BRITTON

Earl Britton, the running mate of Red Grange, at the University of Illinois, has joined the Yellow Jacket squad.

Red Grange received tremendous publicity for his exceptional showing at Illinois. The fans knew him only because the points scored were by him.

Without taking away his honors, nevertheless, this was made possible by perfect interference on the part of the other Illinois backs and a style of play built around and suitable to Grange. Britton was one of the stars of the backfield, and playing in the fullback position was an important cog in the machine. He not only was part of the interference in advancing the ball, but also was called upon to do the kicking when points were needed or his own goal threatened.

Frankford first saw Britton in action at Shibe Park, when Grange and Britton came here with the Bears. This year he was one of the mainstays of the Dayton Club in both their appearances at the local stadium. Time and again his long punts drove the Jackets back when Dayton's goal line was threatened. He plays a bang-up game on the defensive.

Britton feels right at home with the Jackets because two other members of that famous Illinois team, Daugherty, a halfback, and Kassell, an end, have recently joined the local squad.

Three Illinois Stars Now with Jackets Helped Grange Beat Penn in 1925

Britton, Daugherty and Kassel Also Stars in Great Victory.

(The following item is taken from an article appearing in this week's issue of "Liberty" by Walter Eckersall)

Many will remember, in fact never forget, that great game between Illinois and Penn in 1925, when "Red" Grange, as the papers stated, beat Penn single-handed, but they overlooked one fact as most football fans do—the men who form the interference for great ball-toters. Walter Eckersall in Liberty, this week brings to light the work of Grange's "Knock-down" men—these same men who today wear the Frankford colors—Kassel, Daugherty and Britton.

The following is a synopsis of the story: "Illinois won the toss and elected to receive the first kick-off. This placed Pennsylvania on the defensive immediately, and then Zuppke saw for himself the defensive methods of the team coached by Lou Young, a former Penn player.

"After receiving the initial kick-off, Britton and Daugherty, the Illinois backs, made short gains through the Penn line, and then Britton punted to Pennsylvania's fifteen-yard line.

"Penn returned the punt.

"Then came the play which, as far as the spectators were concerned, was the break of the game and sent Illinois on its way to a one-sided and unexpected victory.

"Illinois went back into its customary huddle. The ball was snapped to Grange. He hesitated a moment while Daugherty and Britton did some perfect blocking that got Grange past the scrimmage line.

"After passing the scrimmage line, Grange cut back, eluded the secondary Penn defensive players, and planted the ball under the crossbar of the goal posts. His run covered fifty-eight yards.

"That touchdown paved the way for other Illinois scores.

"Grange caught the next kick-off and nearly ran through the entire Penn team before being stopped on the Easterners' twenty-six-yard line. From this point Daugherty and Britton took the ball to Pennsylvania's six-inch line, and on the next play Britton crashed through center for a touchdown.

"In the second period Grange swept Penn's right end for a touchdown, and in the third quarter Illinois executed a thrilling play. The Western eleven worked its way deep enough into Penn's territory to call for a place-kick formation. The ball was passed to Captain Grange, who was on one knee to hold it for Britton.

"Grange tossed it to Britton. The latter made a perfect forward pass to Kassel, the Illinois end. Meantime, Grange had sprinted to one side of the field, where he took a lateral pass from Kassel and ran nineteen yards for Illinois' final touchdown."

NEW YELLOW JACKET SONGS

(Composed by Richard Bach Organist of the Roosevelt Theatre)

YOUR TEAM AND OUR TEAM

(Sung to the tune of "My Maryland")

When your team meets our team
There'll be a great game, no doubt.
When our team beats your team
We're going to leave out one great shout,
We're with you forever
And all the other teams can go to—
Glory, glory, hallelujah,
And who should care but you!

Here is another one which Dick calls the
"Pep" song:

"THE PEP SONG"

(Sung to the tune of "Lucky in Love," from
"Good News")

We're pep-ie today
We're pep-ie to stay,
We're so pep-ie, we don't know what to say,
We don't feel blue,
We don't have to,
For, Frankford Yellow Jackets, we're all with you.

When we rush, we will make their line bend,
When we don't we will run 'round their end
(hot doodle)

Pep-ie today
We will make it,
They will take it,
We're so pep-ie today.

For variety you'll like this number:

"THE HAPPY SONG"

(Sung to the tune of "Sometimes We're Happy," from "Hit the Deck")

Sometimes we're happy,
Sometimes we're glad,
Sometimes we're scrappy,
Today we're mad.
Look out for us, we're rarin' to go,
And when we go, somebody will know.
We've got the players,
We've got the rooters,
We've got the spirit,
We're all square shooters,
We never felt so happy before,
So now we'll pile up the score.

LAST YEAR'S SONG

(Composed at Ross' Frankford Music Store)

Come hit that line again
Come on and hit it hard,
Come on we need another gain,
Just one little yard,
That's the way they're gaining ground
Yellow Jackets use your pass,
Oh boy what an opening you have found
You've got the game nailed fast.

Official Program Again Running Lucky Rooter Contest

Made Such a Hit Last Season Committee Decided to Run It Again This Year

The Lucky Rooter Contest, run by the official program last year, proved so popular that it again will be a feature of the program.

Each Saturday at the Stadium, the official program photographer will snap a group of fans in the stands, or about the field. In the finished picture, one certain rooter will have his or her picture circled and the photograph published in the official program the following week. The lucky fan, upon coming to the program stand, with a copy of the program will receive, free of charge, a reserved seat ticket for the following game.

Pictures of important doings in the Stadium, and players, will also appear each week. Don't fail to get a copy. Remember the program contains the only OFFICIAL LINE-UP!

YELLOW JACKETS

We Wish You A Successful Season!

Booting the ball to victory is as much a matter of clothes as man power. You couldn't kick the ball far with bare feet—in spite of the fact that Washington led an army of almost barefoot men to victory.

*Whether You Are In The Stand Or On

toss to a teammate for the first Bulldog touch-down.

The score stood 8 to 0 at the end of the first half against Frankford. In the second half the locals tried in vain to start an offense that would earn them a score.

Pass after pass was attempted but all of them with one lone exception were either intercepted or knocked down by the Cleveland backs. The result of the desperate measures used by the Jackets resulted in many intercepted passes up in their own territory and consequently Cleveland made many more points than they otherwise would have earned had the Jackets played the game safe.
