A TRIPLE THREAT!

During the old and now past regime of football each back had to be individually adept at one phase of the game, one a passer, one a runner and one a kicker, until the advent of the triple threat, one man who could do whatever called upon equally well.

So it is today in valet service, we have consolidated under one large and adequately equipped shop all the necessities and modern equipment to render high class simultaneous HEAD TO FOOT VALET SERVICE while you wait.
