Bears' Last Period Rally Beats G

Paschal, Strong Stand Out In Giants' Losing Battle

By RAY RYAN

The Chicago Bears, champions of the National Football League, yesterday proved to the satisfaction of 20,981 shirt-sleeved Civic Stadium customers that they are smart as well as large as they came from behind to whip the New York Giants, 10 to 10, in an on-league game yesterday.

Thirteen-point favorites in the local odds bazaars, the Bears surprisingly enough found themselves trailing, 10-6, late in the third quarter as the results of the efforts of 38-year-old Ken Strong, place-kicking specialist; young Bill Paschal, a warrant officer in the Merchant Marine, and Arnie Herber, playing his 12th season of pro ball.

Then the Bears got a break, and it was all they needed. Abe Croft recovered Paschal's fumble on the Chicago 45. Johnny Long, erstwhile Colgate tailback and now Bears' quarterback, flipped an 18-yard gainer over the heads of a drawn-in Giant secondary, which was discounting the Chicagoans' aerial ability. Another fling, to Croft for 23, moved to the Giant 14 as the third period ended. Long pitched to Ray Nolting for 9 and Gary Famiglietti barreled over from the 2 for the tie-breaker.

Ronzani Pitches One

The Bears reversed the procedure for an insurance "touch" as they drove 61 yards. Al Grygo, Bob Margarita and Famiglietti bit off huge chunks of yardage from the T's quick openers, going for three straight first downs to the Giant 24. Then Gene Ronzani, another quarterback, ran back with the ball, turned and dropped it squarely into the hands of Connie Mack Berry, who made the catch on the 2 and stepped across unmolested.

The Giants spotted the Bears the first six points, then roared back to go ahead. Al Grygo's 22-yard run behind sharp blocking after taking a punt set up the opening score. Margarita slipped through guard for 17 to the Giants' 3, cutting through the New Yorkers' left after the Bears had worked on the opposite side up to that time. Two plays later, they were on the 6, but that made no difference. Long gunned a pass to George Gudasukas, hero of the win over the All-Stars, missed the odd point.

Paschal, leading ground-gainer of the loop as a freshman last season, was nothing short of a whirlwind as the Giants marched 63 yards to go ahead, before the half ended. He gained 34 yards in eight tries, and rocketed himself over center for the touchdown, from two yards out. Strong, the all-time NYU great, came in to add the point that put Tenth Ave.

game's outstanding ball packer. He picked up 82 of the Giants' 106 yards rushing, and returned three kickoffs 92 yards.

The Bears had the better of the statistics, 13 first downs to seven; 168 yards rushing to 106, and 80 yards passing to 69.

The game was marked by rugged line play. Bill Piccolo, Canisius boy, was among those bumped around. Bears' injuries were listed: Al Babartsky, torn cartilage about the ribs; Rudy Smeja, shoulder injury; Nolting, leg injury.

The Bears appeared the better ball club, with a line edge from end to end, and more high-class backs.

Giants and Bears Battle

the line in yesterday's pro game at Civic Stadium, witnessed by 20 to 10.

YESTERDAY'S pro football

Chicago Bears and New York Giants more than lived up to all adjectives of bitter enmity between rivals. Several times during the game feeling cropped up, once removing Buffalo's Bill Piccolo from action as a result. This came during the third period when Connie Mack Berry of the Bears unleashed what looked to us like a crushing uppercut. Anyway, Bill sank to the turf and writhed around while players came off the rival benches and threatened each other for a few seconds. The injured Piccolo was removed from the game, and that didn't set any too well with the fans, who made Berry the target of their verbal barrages for the remainder of the game.

ALTHOUGH the Bears won, 20-10, as expected, the best man on the field was Bill Paschal of the Giants—a leather luggin' sonuvagun, if ever there was one. It can easily be seen why Bill trotted off with the league's ground-gaining laurels last season. He proved almost impossible for the champs to stop, once he got wheeling. It was a great game from start to finish, and none of the 20,981 fans (actual turnstile count) was disappointed. The Bears won the game, but the Giants won the crowd.

Bears' Last Period Rally Beats Giants, 20 to 10, Before 20,981 Fans

Paschal, Strong Stand Out In Giants' Losing Battle

By RAY RYAN
The Chicago Bears, champions of the National Football League, yesterday proved to the satisfaction of 20,981 shirt-sleeved Civic Stadium customers that they are smart as well as large as they came from behind to whip the New York Giants, 10 to 10, in an on-league game yesterday.

Thirteen-point favorites in the local odds bazaars, the Bears surprisingly enough found themselves trailing, 10-6, late in the third quarter as the results of the efforts of 38-year-old Ken Strong, place-kicking specialist; young Bill Paschal, a warrant officer in the Merchant Marine, and Arnie Herber, playing his 12th season of pro ball.

Johnny Long, erstwhile Colgate tailback and now Bears quarterback, flipped an 18-yard gainer over the heads of a drawn-in Giant secondary, which was discounting the Chicagoans' aerial ability. Another fling, to Croft for 23, moved to the Giant 14 as the third period ended. Long pitched to Ray Nolting for 9 and Gary Famiglietti barreled over from the 2 for the tie-breaker.

Ronzani Pitches One
The Bears reversed the procedure for an insurance "touch" as they drove 61 yards. Strong, the all-time NYU great, came in to add the point that put Tenth Ave. Tech ahead, 7-6.

Strong Adds Three
Herber, former Green Bay pitcher, set up the other Giant score. Paschal ran for a first down, to the Giant 34. Herber thereupon flung to Frank Liebel for 15, a subsequent throw from Liebel to Howie Livingston, who went to the Bear 20, being ruled out as a forward pass. Ray Nolting interfered with Joe Sulaitis on the Bear 18. On fourth down, Strong trotted in and drilled home a 24-yard field goal, which ended the Giants' scoring activities for the afternoon.

Paschal, who played on free time from his duties as an athletic instructor, was far and away the
