Jackets Have Hard Games with Millville Today and at Clifton Heights Tomorrow

Nine Former Local Players Colors; Clifton

These are crucial days for the Jackets even though the games today and tomorrow have no bearing on the National League football race.

The lull before the storm has arrived and the largest crowd of the season, swelled by some thousand or more rooters from Millville are here today to see a team composed in the main of former Jackets, battle the proteges of Ed Weir.

Nothing but a victory! Those words conjure a vision of two tearing, ripping teams beating their way up and down before crowded grandstands, thousands rooting for the home team to win and a goodly number being on the side of the visitors.

Just for today the future is forgotten. The past is just a little memory. This is the day of the Millville-Frankford game when nine former Frankford players now with Virgila Johnson's Millville aggregation will try their hardest to beat the team they once battled for.

"SWEDE" YOUNGSTROM

Out to Lower Frankford Expects to Win

As has been said before the result of the game has no bearing on the National League pro grid race but both coaches consider the game a crucial one in their schedule.

Deeds of valor of yesteryear are fresh in the minds of virtually all of those here today who at the same time feel sure that the present Frankford aggregation can defeat the former team.

Players with Millville who played here are "Swede" Youngstrum, who is coach of Millville; George Sullivan, Tex Hamer, Doc Elliott, Adrian Ford, Leo Douglass, Whitey Thomas, Save Crowther and Jim Welch. All are certain to start against their former teammates and have noised it abroad that they feel certain of winning.

In Clifton Heights, just out in Delaware County, the Jackets play Clifton Heights tomorrow.

Charley Rogers Is Big Factor in 13-9 Triumph Over Pesky Dayton Triangles Home Team Trails at Half-Time, But Assumes Lead When Former Penn Star Enters Fray

CHARLEY ROGERS

Charley Rogers is one of the most popular players who ever wore a uniform of the Jackets and there is every reason for it. His popularity certainly is justified. It's remarkable the effect that Rogers' presence has upon the Hornets.

The Penn star of bygone days is the pendulum of Frankford hopes. Without Rogers last Saturday the Jackets trailed Dayton at half-time, 3-0. With him, they pushed across two touchdowns in the last two quarters and prevented a calamity, gaining a 13-9 victory.

What is this mystic spell that Charley casts over our boys? Defeat becomes victory by the mere injection of Rogers into the lineup. At least that's the way Dayton views the affair.

In the opening home game Rogers carried the only touchdown across the line to defeat the Triangles, 6-0. Last Saturday he was not credited with the touchdowns, but indirectly was responsible for both.

When he started play in the second half, Frankford looked like a remodeled machine.

Rogers set the example and his ball-toting playmates followed. Charley ran back punts in his own inimitable style, skirted the ends for gains, time and again.

Then within scoring range Wally Diehl and Ken Mercer applied the finishing touches. Diehl crossed the Dayton goal line in the third quarter from a short line buck and Mercer traversed the touchdown territory in the final after grabbing a pass from Wally.

The Dayton touchdown was as futile as it was fluke. A Frankford fumble deep in its own territory with less than five minutes to play was its inception.

It became a double miscue when a Dayton lineman fell on the leather lemon and proceeded to let it get away from him. Then followed a grand scramble in which a Daytonite again proved the most

Greatest Forward Here with

Benny Friedman Is Football

The greatest forward passer in this or any football age will be seen by Philadelphia fans when Benny Friedman, former Michigan Captain and All-American quarterback, steps out on the gridiron here next Saturday afternoon to lead his Detroit eleven against the Yellow Jackets.

Friedman has never attempted to be the longest passer in the game, preferring to emphasize accuracy rather than distance, but Benny can throw them far enough and he can combine distance with accuracy better than anyone else who ever disported in moleskins.

That's a large and broad statement, but football experts all over the country have been forced to accept it as the truth. When he played in New York the other week one of the leading papers commenting on the game with the Yankees said "Benny Friedman was as great in the victory over the Yankees as the imagination of his press agent."

The proof of Friedman's

BENNY FRIEDMAN

Sensation of National League Circles by His Work

greatness as a forward passer is written forever in Michigan's recent football history and in the history being made this season by the Detroit Wolverines, the only unbeaten team in the National Football League thus far.

There has been no fact more widely known and circulated than that Benny Friedman is a great passer and that passing is the biggest feature of his team's offense. Yet though opponents have known what to expect and have built special defenses against him, Friedman has been consistently successful, sensationally so, with the forward pass.

Benny makes his passes regardless of the defense. That is because he has the ability to pick out a likely receiver and the ability to get the ball to that receiver with the least motion. Ninety-nine times out of a hundred the pass will be completed if the receiver will do his share, that is to hang onto the ball when he gets it in his hands. The hundredth time the opponents will be in position to block the pass.

Benny has a marvelous record so far this season in his passing and it would have

Ed Weir's Place Kick Gives Frankford 14-13 Triumph Over Stapleton Eleven

*Mercer's Touchdown in Final Period Ties Score
Then Coach Wins for His Team*

The Jackets gained their third non-league triumph on Sunday in turning back the Stapleton eleven 14-13 at Thompson's Stadium, Staten Island, before some 8,000 fans.

The play which led to the victory was a 5-yard forward pass on the fourth down from Diehl to Mercer, who scored a touchdown. Then Coach Ed Weir, who had gone in at fullback for Houston Stockton, kicked a goal which made the score 14 to 13 and gave his team a well-deserved triumph.

The victory was the seventh in eight starts for our boys. Stapleton started off well and before five minutes of play the ball rested on the Frankford 2-yard line, but it was here that the Frankford line became a stone wall and Doug Wycoff and Frank Briante were helpless. The ball was lost by Stapleton on downs and Frankford immediately kicked out of danger.

From this point on Frankford played steady football and using a brilliant aerial attack, ran the ball down the field from their own 2-yard line to the Stapleton 25-yard line. Another forward pass from Stockton to Joey Maxwell was completed and the latter raced over the goal line for the first touchdown. Mercer then kicked the extra point. There was no further scoring in the first quarter.

Stapleton made a touchdown in the second quarter. Kuzco, who went in for Wycoff, threw a pass to Waite at right end, and the latter writhed himself free of a tackle by Oehlich and with a clear field ran for a touchdown. Lord failed to kick the goal.

Running the ball back from the 20-yard line to Frankford's 38-yard line in the third period, Briante started an attack and in five plays Stapleton scored the second touchdown to assume the lead. Briante virtually carried the ball down the field and made big gains on an off-tackle play.

It was then in the final period that Frankford unleashed another air attack that resulted in the touchdown that tied the score followed by Weir's winning point. Weir made numerous switches in the team using Joey Maxwell at end, Hanson at tackle, Kassel at guard and went in himself at fullback for a while. Fait Elkins also was in action. Frankford played wonderful ball on the defence and its aerial attack was a revelation, the score failing in a large measure to show the difference in play of the two teams.

JACKETS HAVE HARD GAME

It has been two years since Frankford played at Clifton before.

The town is all het up over the game and Manager Gallagher expects some ten thousand fans to see the contest. Here, too, former Frankford players of yesteryear will be arrayed against this year's squad.

In the Clifton lineup are Ned Wilcox, Dick Moynihan, Pete Richards, all of whom were at Frankford last season. Clifton signed Folwell Scull, ex-Penn end, the other day and late in the week Karl Robinson, the coach, also secured the services of several other noted players who will be in the game against the Jackets. Clifton players and fans also are confident they can beat Frankford.

The Pottsville Maroons pay a visit to Providence tomorrow. The Roller has only one defeat and a win for the Rhode Islanders will place them on even terms with Frankford. The Jackets can move into first place if the Bears beat Detroit and Pottsville trims Providence.

Grange Is Getting Yen for One More Game

Harold "Red" Grange, the "galloping ghost" of Illinois football history is now doing a song and dance act in vaudeville, but he may return for just one more game in the Yankee stadium this fall.

Between curtain calls in Chicago the other day "Red" said, "Sometimes I think I'd like to play one more game and then sometimes I'm not so sure. But I suppose I'll wind up by crashing into a game some time before the season is up. My leg that was hurt in a professional game last fall is all right again and I am in good condition."

Yank Grid Star Engaged

Gibby Welch, football star, now playing with the New York Yankees has confirmed his engagement to Miss Antoinette Boots, musical comedy actress now playing in New York. The date of the wedding has not yet been fixed.

Renews Old Love

Peggy Udell, movie star and chorus girl, gave Broadway something to talk about by rekindling her romance with Jimmy Conzelman, grid star and blues writer, whom she divorced three years ago. She embraced him when he starred recently in a professional football game in the Yankee stadium in New York.

Gordon Mackay Praises Yellow Jackets in Philadelphia Record

The Following Is Reprinted from His "Is Zat So" Column

Published Wednesday of This Week

Our well-known "typewritorians," as we just love to term the boys who punch out pieces for the paper, have all dallied with that practice line: Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the party.

That's our theme today, the reason for this plea. For "party" substitute "the Yellow Jackets." A football eleven of professional renown and much accomplishment, and you have the reason in a single word why we are thumping out this screed.

Our eye caught the attendance figures for last Saturday's game at 5000. This is all wrong. The Jackets deserve better support. Not because they are a football eleven. Not because they represent their district. Because they represent a "great and noble experiment" which has done a darn sight more good than prohibition, to which Herbert Hoover referred in such extravagant language.

While Shep Royle, who is back at the helm again, would be the last to admit the fact—Shep being, as he is, a stalwart Republican legislator—Coolidge prosperity has struck the Yellow Jackets more than a glancing blow on the chin. Textile industries in the northeast are now doing their smoking blindfolded. The eloquence of smokeless chimneys in that section are the indexes of empty pocketbooks.

There is no better sportsman in the wide world than your chap in the northeast. Give him plenty of work, wages that are liberal, his chance to get the money by honest labor and everybody prospers.

A fight enthusiast, he will support fistics. A soccer devotee, he made that game and kept it alive. A football lover, especially by the proxy of his children, he comes across in splendid fashion—when he has the money.

And the Jackets deserved every nickel that was ever received from their followers. Talk about college spirit. Bah! it is a phoney compared to the manner in which the northeast supported Frankford—when that district had the money.

Talk about the manner in which colleges expend their money—take a look at the Yellow Jackets. See real community spirit elevated to a classic. Shep Royle and his gang are too darned modest to appeal for help. But by jingo we are not the kind to desert them at the time when the Jackets should be supported.

There is plenty of football money around somewhere. We want to see Shep and his crew get their share of it. We'll explain the manner in which the Jackets work. Then we'll ask you if there is a more self-sacrificing, self-denying crowd in the whole blooming city.

The Jackets are managed under the Frankford A. A., a crowd of gridiron crusaders who kept the home fires burning and the white light of honest rivalry and splendid sportsmanship aflame for twenty years or more in Frankford.

Not ONE PENNY accrues to that organization.

Its personnel enlists the finest citizens of the district. Meet a member of the Frankford A. A. and you find a decent chap, as loyal a Frankfordian and as fine a gentleman as you wish to meet.

Everybody has his task and stint. Everybody pitches in to help the cause. Every nickel of profit is split and divided among the worthy causes of the district. The hospital receives its share. A day nursery probably gets another. A welfare body receives its allotment. So goes the partition of the profits.

NOT ONE CENT to an organization that labors twelve months in the year for one cause. With an eye single to one purpose—to put a professional eleven on the field worthy of Frankford. The Jackets are epic in their position. Early it was seen that professional football wouldn't amount to shucks unless it were representative.

Immediately Frankford took the bit in its teeth. Its players must live in the district. They must become Frankforders in essence and spirit, if they were not by birth. An affinity thus exists between Frankford and its players which you find in few sections of this land.

Frankford has been blazoned about the world in such a manner by its football triumphs as a moribund chamber of commerce or a business men's association suffering from hardening of the arteries couldn't have done for any district in a million years.

In return for this Frankford's loyal and true sons have worked right along without personal profit. Often without a shred of individual glory and acclaim. So a plea for better patronage means nothing in the pockets of those chaps, serving without pay, without a grumble. The real sufferers will be the worthy charities and institutions to whom the Yellow Jackets stand as godfathers. It is upon the profits which the football team achieves that a lot of the work of these excellent organizations is based for the winter.

The Jackets deserve the support that they are too proud to ask, too modest and retiring to voice. But we are NOT. So we say that if you want to see your money doing the community work, spent where you live, used for purposes which ultimately affect your community life, then you Northeasters get out to that stadium and give the boys a hand and a handful.

It is only RIGHT and JUST.

Bears Are Beaten by Green Bay; Detroit Blanks Giants to Assume League Lead

*Yankees Bowled Over by Steam Roller and Friedman's Wolverines
Are Now Only Unbeaten Combination*

Frankford climbed a notch in the National League football standings as a result of the week-end games. The Jackets defeated Dayton on Saturday 13 to 9 and then subsequent events on the following day saw our favorites move into second place.

Another team fell from the select class when Green Bay defeated the Chicago Bears 16-6. Benny Friedman and his Wolverines walloped the New York Giants 28-0, and now Detroit leads the procession as the only unbeaten team in Joe Carr's grid circuit. The Yankees fell before Providence 12-6.

Friedman was virtually the whole show in his team's magnificent victory, with his heaves, place kicking and his spectacular 58-yard run through a broken field for a touchdown. Detroit scored twice in the first quarter and again crossed the Giants' goal twice in the final quarter, the concluding touchdown being the result of a 40-yard pass, Friedman to Baccus, which carried the oval to the 8-yard line. Jackson, a substitute back, scored through center on the second try. Friedman kicked all four goals with ease.

Fourteen thousand Chicago pro football fans saw the Bears lose their first game in falling before the Green Bay Packers 16 to 6. Neither side was able to score in the initial quarter, but straight line smashes placed Llwelley in a position to register in the second quarter, and in the final period the same-player booted a goal from placement.

Following a successful aerial attack the Bears counted in the last quarter and with the Bears near another score and only a minute to play, O'Connor, of the Packers intercepted a Chicago pass on the 10-yard line and ran 90 yards for the final score.

The Yanks seemed headed for a win over the Steam Roller when they held a lead of 6-0 at the end of the third quarter. There was no score in the first half, but in the third quarter Welch passed to Cyre for a touchdown, the final pass being one of four heaves, each of which was successful.

Providence took to the air with a vengeance in the last period. Two passes put the ball on the Yanks 10-yard line where it was lost on downs. So on after a 50-yard toss, Wilson to Harvey returned the oval to the 3-yard mark and Wilson took it over on two line bucks.

The battle of forward passing continued and the Pyle men appeared well on their way to the winning touchdown when Frank Hanny, late of Indiana University, intercepted a Yank throw on the 50-yard line and flanked by perfect interference scampered over the goal line with the winning points.

Football Fun

The real football fans not only see the games played but they take them home, play them over again at dinner, in the evening, the next day and so on, until the next one occurs.

They have favorites they watch and dwell on, they describe plays and the results of them all to their own satisfaction. Some get out their pencils and figure out points in scoring and playing.

Harry Dengler has devoted some of his spare time to drawing football cartoons and has figured out the following pertinent question from the players names.

To Tone Down

Rah - Rah Boys

The rah-rah boys and the rooting section at Stanford University as understood by the football fans are due for a complete change of front.

The Pacific Coast Association of College Yell Leaders have decided that something should be done about present-day rooting to raise the standard of that department of football.

The delegates voiced opposition to the frenzied gymnastic and the babbling of meaningless syllables by rooters. The words "dignity" and "grace" found their way into the discussion and while no definite action was taken the representatives agreed that much could be done to improve the present-day sound-offs and the antics of the rooters.

Ohio Grid Player

Doubles as Pastor

Norman Scribner, of Baltimore, Md., is a football player on Saturdays and a preacher on Sundays.

Scribner plays tackle on the Ohio Wesleyan University eleven—the team that humbled Michigan in the Wolverines' opening game of the season. Recently, when Wesleyan met the University of Cincinnati at Cincinnati, the Maryland youth played tackle and remained over so that he might preach in the Northside Methodist Episcopal Church Sunday morning and in the First Methodist Episcopal Church in Norwood, a suburb, in the evening.

Known as the "fighting preacher" in Ohio collegiate circles, Scribner stands six feet two inches and weighs 246 pounds. He has earned most of his university expenses by preaching in Central Ohio churches.

NO QUARTERS, HALVES OR FULLS, JUST PLAIN BACKS

Out in Columbia, Mo., all of coach Gwin Henry's University of Missouri football players who operate behind the line are backs, not halves, quarters or fulls.

Henry designates them, but only for the benefit of the scorers. Missouri uses the huddle system of signal calling.

PSYCHOLOGY AS AID TO COACH CHICK MEEHAN

Chick Meehan applies psychology in getting his football teams ready for games.

A big board with enlarged pictures of the opposing players as they line up against the opposition is the first thing that confronts the New York University athletes as they come into the door at the Varsity House.

This gives each player a chance to become familiar with the appearance of his opponents before the start of the struggle.

SONNENBERG VICTOR ON MAT

"Dynamite" Gus Sonnenberg, of the Providence Steam Rollers can do other things besides play football. At Providence last Tuesday night Sonnenberg featured a wrestling show and had little difficulty in tossing Charlie Hanson, Swedish champion, in the windup.

"Wildcat" Wilson is beginning to flash the form for Providence that made him an ace in the American League a few years ago. Wilson is a triple threat artist of the front-row variety.

Detroit plays the Bears at Chicago tomorrow and Paddy Driscoll will do a big favor if he turns back Friedman, et al.

POTTSVILLE DIVIDES

The Pottsville Maroons on a trip in the West won at Dubois, Pa., on Saturday, 40 to 0, and then were beaten on Sunday, at Canton, 18 to 6, in a peculiar game in which Pottsville made sixteen first downs to four and yet were beaten by such a score.

CHARLEY ROGERS BIG FACTOR

alert, picking up the pigskin and running to the Frankford 4-yard line. Sillon took it over on the third try.

That field goal by Abbott in the first quarter still furnishes meat for conversation. It was one of the longest ever made on the Jacket field.

Standing on the Frankford 43-yard line, the Dayton back, place-kicked the ball over the bars a half-hundred yards away. The actual distance was 53 yards as the posts are situated ten yards behind the goal line. Though it was aided by the wind, it was a super-effort in any man's league.

That Frankford deserved its victory and should have emerged triumphant by a larger score is evidenced by the statistics. The Jackets made thirteen first downs to the visitors' two.

Fait Elkins, noted Indian athlete, was impressive in his debut late in the game. In his few times at carrying the ball he showed considerable aggressiveness, pushing forward even after he was tackled. He also furnished fine interference for Mercer in the scoring of the second touchdown.

Perry, former Alabama star, is shining for the Packers this fall. He was recently shot into the left tackle berth when Cahoon was injured and has been doing so good that he won a permanent place in the Big Bay Blues' line.

been almost perfect had his receivers held all the passes thrown into their hands. Twice Detroit lost touchdowns when the receiver dropped the ball behind the goal line and other times perfect passes were dropped in the clear when a touchdown would have likely resulted.

That isn't Benny's fault and is becoming rarer as his receivers show greater facility in handling the ball. Friedman's passing has resulted in almost every Detroit score this season, directly or indirectly and it will be the chief offensive weapon against the Yellow Jackets.

First place will likely depend on the outcome of the game and then Ed Weir and his players must travel on the following day to New York to open the home season of the Champion Giants.

Whatta schedule!

Feather, a hard-hitting back, is co-starring with Benny Friedman and his Wolverines. In the games with the Yankees and Giants he got away to several brilliant advances which resulted in touchdowns.

"Mule" Wilson is doing his stuff nicely for the New York Giants. The six-footer from Texas is a hard man to stop on tackle smashes and there isn't a better back in the league against a forward pass attack.
