To Our Fans:

Now that the last home game is here,
We may not meet until next year,
So here's our chance to say adieu,—
It's been a pleasure seeing you!
Each Sunday, with our brand of sport,
We've tried to merit your support,
And though at times we dropped a game,
We guess our playing wasn't tame!
Of course, we hope in '33
You'll all achieve prosperity,
And when, next fall, football abounds,
May Sundays find you at our grounds
Again a happy, cheering throng,
And until then, THANKS, FANS, SO LONG!

The Management is deeply appreciative of the response made to its query as to why fans considered pro football superior to any other brand played throughout the country.

Hundreds of letters were received and in almost every letter there were well founded reasons why pro football should merit the enthusiasm of its patrons. And in addition to this, it was found that the pro football fan possesses no end of data concerning games, past and present.

In trying to determine the ten best letters, the judges were somewhat perplexed and made this known to the Management, whereupon it was decided to increase the number from ten to twenty.

On the opposite page will be found a list of the successful participants, to each of whom will be forwarded a Season Pass for 1933.

The Management wishes to thank all those making reply; also the thousands of others in regular attendance at its games and trusts for a continuance of your patronage in the years to come.

SPECIAL NOTE.—National Football League games this season are played under the same rules that governed 1931 play with but two exceptions. Of the many changes made in the college rules only two proved acceptable to the professional circuit. One is that providing for substitutions every quarter instead of once a half. The other change was that in equipment making hard pads illegal. National League officials were of the opinion that the rules as they stood in 1931 needed no changes and felt also that football followers would like to see the code as it stood given a more thorough trial before extensive alterations.

My Song!

Each Fall my joy is without bounds
On Sundays at the Polo Grounds,
For when our FOOTBALL GIANTS play,—
Just try and keep this guy away!
Now, I've seen Harvard, near Back Bay,
I've hied myself to Ioway,
I've been down south to Tennessee,
I've seen a Rose Bowl jamboree;
In fact, I've been from coast to coast
And I'll insist that it's no boast
To say the games which most appealed
Were those played here on our pro field.
My roving football days are o'er,—
Most stars, I find, play at my door!
As I look through the haze of years,
That heap big Injun, Thorpe, appears;
Brick Muller, Nevers (Stanford's pride),
Then Hinkey Haines and Jack McBride;
Red Grange, Chris Cagle and Dutch Clark,—
Each one of these a football shark!
Too, Benny Friedman and Ken Strong,
But listing all would prove too long.
I'll tell the world I'll ne'er forget
That time the Yanks and GIANTS met
Upon a day which was replete
With slush and snow and blinding sleet.
I don't suppose I'll ever see
A contest waged more bitterly,
For there, upon a turf atrocious,
The play was what you'd call ferocious;
But what amazed me most of all
Was both teams' handling of the ball,
For during the entire fray
Not once did that ball slip away!
In League games only, you'll agree,
Does one find such proficiency.

YES, ON SUCH GAMES I REALLY DOTE,
SO PRO LEAGUE FOOTBALL GETS MY VOTE!
