CAPT. CURLY LAMBEAU
Halfback

"Curly", who back in his undergraduate days flashed with East Green Bay high school and Rockne's Notre Dame eleven, has done more than any other man to put Green Bay on the map in professional football. He is entering his tenth year on the Packer lineup, and his heady coaching, coupled with his uncanny knowledge of the grid game and his sterling playing ability, rank him high among the men who have worn the blue and gold.

VERNE LEWELLEN
Halfback

For the past two seasons Lewellen has been a unanimous choice for a halfback position on the All-Professional team. The University of Nebraska is "Lew's" Alma Mater and for three years he was a shining light in the gridiron activities of that institution. His first year with the Packers was played under difficulties as he was just recuperating from a long illness but since that time he has been the most consistent player in the back line of the Rig Bay Blues. Like Earpe, he finished out the season last year with the New York Yanks.

WHITEY WOODIN
Guard

"Whitey" is another of the Packer veterans who learned his football at Marquette. After graduating from that institution Woodin played with the Racine Legion team and then came to the Packers some 5 years ago. Woodin is one of the most aggressive linemen ever to wear a Packer suit and in this respect his work is outstanding. The harder the game the harder "Whitey" bears down and always plays his best against opponents with the biggest reputation.

DICK O'DONNELL

End

Another veteran of the professional game whose playing each year seems to get better until now he rates as one of the classiest ends in the National Pro league. His tackling and blocking is outstanding and few players can boast of being more aggressive than Dick. Before he came to Green Bay Dick was one of the stars at Duluth. Defensively he has always been a wonder and in the past two years has shown great ability in the aerial game which has made the Packers famous.

EDDIE KOTAL

Halfback

Although coming from only a small school, Lawrence to be exact. Kotal has played football at least on a par with most of the great collegiate stars from bigger colleges who have entered the professional game. His open field running has helped the Packers out on a lot of occasions when a long run was needed. He is perhaps one of the smallest back field men in the Professional league but makes up in nerve and fighting spirit what he lacks in beef and brawn.

JIM BOWDOIN
 Guard

Bowdoin is turning in his first season as a professional with the Packers, and the guard, who won an all-Southern berth last fall, is expected to continue with his stellar line performance during the 1928 year. Alabama hails Bowdoin as an alumnus, and the 225-pound husky made three trips to the coast to represent the southern university in the annual Tournament of Roses.

IVAN CAHOON
Tackle

In his two years of professional football "Tiny" as he is known has taken rank as one of the best tackles in the game, and has proved to be one of the mainstays of the Packers line. He is a native of the Badger state, playing high school football at Baraboo. After leaving high school he played one year at Montana and then finished his college career at Gonzaga. He joined the Packers immediately after his graduation from college and was not slow to show his ability in the professional game. He has been mentioned on several All-Professional selections in the past two seasons.

A powerful reputation as a line plunger precedes Lollar to Green Bay, and the big back is expected to "strut his stuff" before thousands of fans here this fall. He is known far and wide as a defensive fullback of the first carat. He played high school football with Perry and Jones in the southland, and is putting in his first year as a professional grid-iron warrior.

"JUG" EARPE
Center

When it comes to consistency and aggressive playing either at center or tackle there are few players in the professional league who have anything on "Jug." At either position he is at home. His college days were spent at Monmouth and his first try at the professional game was with the Rock Island Independents. He then joined the Packers and since that time has proved his ability on occasions to numerous to mention. Last season was one of his best and after the Packers finished their season he joined the New York Yanks and their tour of the coast where his playing won much favorable comment from sport writers, in that part of the country.

The Pottsville Maroons will do a bit of traveling this week end. Sunday they are booked for a game in Green Bay with the Packers and then the Miners travel back to New York for an election day fray with the Giants.

The Detroit Wolverines have a doubleheader booked with the two clubs right on their heels in the pennant chase. Saturday, Benny Friedman & Co. performs in Frankford, Pa., while on Sunday they are scheduled in Providence, R. I.

The New York Yankees start their western tour on Sunday with a game in Chicago against the Bears. A week later, the Pyle-men are billed in Green Bay while on Nov. 18, the Gotham squad mingles again with the Detroit Wolverines.

After being on the road for six weeks, the New York Giants open a long stay at the Polo grounds Sunday with a game against the Yellowjackets. The 1927 pro league champs hope to pick up lots of lost ground while at home.

Jack Britton sure is earning his money with the Dayton Triangles. The former Illinois star is just about the whole show behind the line. He lugs the ball about every third time besides doing all the passing and punting.

Pete Jackson, former Missouri star, has come through with bells on for the Detroit Wolverines. Jackson was off the gridiron for two seasons but he asked Manager Andrews for a chance at fullback and has filled the bill.

Maxwell, former Notre Dame star, is proving a handy man to have around in the Yellowjacket camp. He started off the season at center but now Coach Weir is using him frequently at end. Maxwell talks as hard as he plays.

Boob Darling has earned his spurs with the Green Bay Packers. After a year on the bench, the recruit center played the entire game against Dayton and his brilliant defensive play was an outstanding feature of the contest.

When it comes to guards they don't make 'em much better than Michalske, the New York Yankee veteran. He follows the ball closely and is on top of every play. Often he pulls out of the line and nips a pass play in the bud.

Several of the clubs have been making offers for a couple of Chicago Cardinal players but Manager Chris O'Brien is sticking tight so that he will have his club intact for the eastern invasion and the Bear game.

Harvey and Hanny, a pair of heavyweight ends, are doing good service for the Providence Steamrollers. Hanny was with the Bears last fall while Harvey has played with several pro clubs. Both of them are fast for big fellows.

Rosey Rosatti has won a berth with the New York Giants. He is a veteran tackle and has been on the postgraduate gridiron for six seasons. Rosatti knows his football and is a topnotcher when playing on the defensive.

Larry Walquist is back in the game again for the Chicago Bears. The former Illinois flash was gashed bad'y in the Giants' fray but he performed like the Walquist of old in the game with Benny Friedman's tribe.

Tony LaTone is still good for a yard or two whenever given the ball. This plunging Pottsville backfielder seems to improve with old age. Tony doesn't worry about holes, he just brushes aside anything in his way.

Once in a while some praise is heard for an official and George Lawrie, the Chicago referee, is being spoken of highly for his work. Lawrie is always right on top of the play and he hustles the teams along pretty fast.

The New York Giants drew first blood in their city feud with the Yanks to the tune of 10-7. Bruce Cauldwell had one of his on days and he led the Giants' attack. Gibby Welch was very much in the limelight for the Yanks.

The Chicago Bears took in on the wrong cheek for the second week in succession. This time out it was the Detroit Tigers who turned the trick. A lone touchdown in the final stanza spelled defeat for the Bruins, 6-0.

Providence continued to prance along Victory row by nosing out the Pottsville Maroons, 13 to 6. The Miners put up a determined resistance but the Conzelman-Wilson combination proved just a bit too much for them.

Continuing its winning streak, Green Bay took a fall out of the Dayton Triangles, 17 to 0. The Ohioans made but two first downs and not once did they have the ball in their possession inside the Packers' 40-yard line.

Halfback

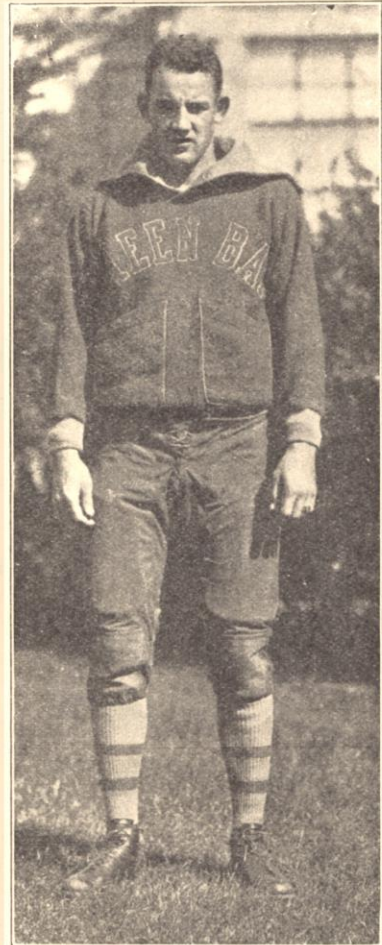

Football stock leaped a notch in the Bay when Marks, 1926 captain of Indiana, signed to play professional football at the City stadium and elsewhere. Last year when Red Grange was hurt, he selected Marks to fill his place in the New York Yankee backfield, and this Marks did to the limit of the driving, aggressive ability. Last year was his first in the pro game.

This newest addition to the Packers last year was picked on the All American team for his brilliant playing with Georgia. His specialty is grabbing passes and in this department he should fit in nicely with the Packers. His size also makes him almost impregnable on the defensive. With Dilweg and O'Donnel and Nash the Packers can boast of having just about the three best ends in the country.

"BOOB" DARLING Center

Although Darling had but little chance to show his ability before local fans nevertheless Captain Lambeau considers him a valuable addition to the Packer squad. "Boob" started playing football at Ripon and then transferred his allegiance to Beloit where he acquired such a reputation that the Packers signed him upon his graduation. It is expected that this season he will do great things and win the recognition which his ability warrants.

midwest for his smashing tactics while swinging through the Big Ten circles. O'Boyle coached with the University of Colorado last year, turning out a successful team. He is noted particularly for his bone-crushing attack on the line.

Last year was his first with the Packers. He played for three seasons at Alabama where he was on several All-Southern selections. Last year he showed up in great form and his work in the Packer line was brilliant. He fights hard in every game and this will be vouched for by any of his opponents of last season. With the experience he gained last year in the pro game he should come close to being one of the greatest tackles in the country this year.
