Introducing the New Giants

LEONARD GRANT

One of the 1930 crop of new stars which the Giants have acquired. While at N. Y. U. Grant was intercollegiate boxing champion in the heavyweight division. A great tackle on both defense and offense, last year's captain of N. Y. U., is a valuable addition to the forward wall of the Giants.

DALE BURNETT

Another triple threat man is possessed by the Giants in Burnett. A runner, passer and kicker, this graduate of Kansas State Teachers' College is also an excellent pass receiver and a strong defensive back. While at college, he held the state record for the 120-yard high hurdles and was three times selected All Conference center in Basketball. He is just as valuable an addition to the Giants' back field as Grant is to the line.

HAL HILPERT

This graduate of Oklahoma City University came all the way from the City of Oklahoma at his own expense to see if he could win a position as guard on the team. However, he has been switched to end where he is making good. He is especially good on the defense, although he is also a good offensive player. While at college he was twice selected as All Conference guard.

MORRIS BADGRO

To this capable end from the University of Southern California is given the man-sized job of filling the shoes of "Red" Flaherty who is now coaching at Gonzaga on the coast. He is doing a fine job of it, too. Late in reporting to the Giants because he was playing outfield for the St. Louis Browns, he was quick to pick up the signals and is sure to be heard from this year.

DENVER GIBSON

A fast running guard, this graduate of Grove City College, is fitting nicely into the picture as a reserve and will undoubtedly see much service on the team this year.

RUDY COMSTOCK

Professional football fans will remember Rudy as the guard who was one of the mainstays of the Philadelphia Yellow Jackets for the last four years. A graduate and former captain of Georgetown, he is a powerful defensive guard and fits in nicely.

OSCAR WIBERG

Formerly of Nebraska Wesleyan University of Nebraska, Wiberg is also a triple threat back. He is especially strong as a line plunger but can also punt, pass, place kick, receive passes and is a good defensive back. Having played with Cleveland and Detroit in the National Professional Football League, and coached Ashland, Nebraska, High School, he has a lot of experience and should be very valuable this year.

DICK STAHLMAN

Followers of the Giants' great team of 1927, will remember Dick as the tackle who played through the season with a special helmet to protect his nose which was broken in one of the first games of that year. He did not play with the Giants in '28 or '29 but has returned to them now and when kicks start to be blocked by the Giants, you will find Stahlman doing most of the blocking.
