Giants of 1942 Good Amalgam of Veteran Skill and Rookie Fire

HANK SOAR

MEL HEIN, Captain

THE Giants of 1942 have had their vicissitudes. They lost a lot of key men to the service, and it has taken a little time to incorporate new men into the machine, and teach them the system under which Steve Owen operates. Owen is rated the greatest defense coach in the National League, and his record will bear out the contention that defense is not his only virtue. Steve knows football and his elevens year after year demonstrate his high skill and gridiron acumen.

On the cover of this programme you find a picture of Steve Blozis, one of Owen's rookies of the 1942 Giants. This Blozis man pretty well fills the cover, doesn't he? In fact, the engraver who made the cut complained that he had had trouble making Blozis fit.

Blozis is Owen's right tackle. Steve learned the football business at Georgetown. He weighs a mere 248 pounds. Give or take five on that. He stands a measly 6 feet 6 inches in height, and is 23.

In college, Blozis made himself an enviable reputation as an all-around athlete. He set all sorts of records for the shot put. Those metal pellets were like pills in the mighty fist of the great Blozis.

On this page you see a neat picture of one Hank Soar. The seasons come and the seasons go, and Hank soars right on. He came to the Giants virtually unheralded and unsung six seasons back, from Providence College. While other coaches looked for more glamour, Owen grabbed Mr. Soar—and what a grab it turned out to be! Soar is 27 years of age, weighs 218 and stands 6 feet in height.

The veteran contingent on the New York club is headed by Mel Hein, the center, one of the greatest players seen in that position since football was devised. Hein is playing his twelfth year for Owen, is 33, weighs 232, stands 6 feet 4, and landed in New York from Washington State. He still is out there most of the afternoon.

Second in seniority among the Giants is Leland Shaffer, the back, who is in his eighth season with Owen. Then there is the seven-year-man Tuffy Leemans, now ready to return after a layoff with a head injury suffered in the game with the Chicago Bears.

There are three six-year veterans on the Giants—Ward Cuff, Soar and Jim Howell. Five-year men are Will Walls and Frank Cope. The threes are Al Owen, Dom Principe, Bill Edwards and Harry Kline.

There are no fewer than 19 first-year players. Look them over. They are an impressive lot.

"GIVE TOUGHNESS THE WORKS!"—Say the 5 Crowns

Old TOUGHNESS has played his last game,
And 5 Crown is winning new fame . . .

Without that crude blighter
Our "5's" smooth and lighter . . .
Just taste it and you'll say the same!

The HOST bottle's swell—take a peek!
No doubt if a bottle could speak
This smart one would say
"Try 5 Crown today"—
It's FINER—delicious—unique!

Victory Over Eagles Gave Fresh Impetus to the Giants

THAT fine victory over the Eagles in Philadelphia last week, 14 to 0, gave the Giants a fresh impetus, and indicated that a lot of the latent talent in Steve Owen's outfit finally had begun to produce results.

The Giants indicate that they will bear close watching for the rest of the way. Here is what they have done to date:

Giants, 14; Washington Redskins, 7.

Giants, 35; Philadelphia Eagles, 17.

Pittsburgh Steelers, 13; Giants, 10.

Chicago Bears, 26; Giants, 7.

Brooklyn Dodgers, 17; Giants, 7.

Giants, 14; Philadelphia Eagles, 0.

The Dodgers will be encountered a second time, at the Polo Grounds on December 6,—and on that occasion Owen's lads promise Mr. Getto's men a warm reception.

WARD CUFF

ANDY MAREFOS

Marefos and Cuff Hold Out Thrills

AS the football season rolls to its close, the Giants promise some very interesting things, and among those who hold out thrills aplenty for the Polo Grounds fans are Andy Marefos and Ward Cuff.

Marefos really took charge as the Maramen came back in their 14 to 0 triumph over the Eagles. Early in the season, Greasy Neale's men were able to penetrate the New York defenses for 17 points, but last week, the Eagles could not score at all.

Cuff's achievements for the New York club, year after year, are known all over the National League. His abilities as a place kicker are paramount.

Take a good look!

► You can become an expert in one quick glance! Just look at the open end of a pack of Raleighs against any other popular-priced brand. The color of Raleighs is more golden.

Golden color is proof of quality. At the great tobacco sales, the ripe and mellow golden leaves bring the top prices.

That's why Raleighs give you a milder, tastier smoke. Try a pack. And save the coupons on the back! Good in U. S. A. for many luxury premiums.

Three More Games on Schedule of Giants at Polo Grounds

THE schedule of the New York Giants pro football team now shows three more games at the Polo Grounds. Into these contests will be packed a tremendous lot of action. For the three remaining visitors will be the Green Bay Packers, the Chicago Cardinals, and the Brooklyn Dodgers. The return engagement with the Flatbush outfit especially is awaited with the keenest interest by New York fans, as the Dodgers won from the Giants at Ebbets Field by 17 to 7.

All gridiron followers know the brilliant lineups these three visitors will throw into the arena by the Harlem. Here is the programme the Giants face for the rest of the championship race:

November 22—Green Bay Packers, at Polo Grounds.

November 29—Chicago Cardinals, at Polo Grounds.

December 6—Brooklyn Dodgers, at Polo Grounds.

CECIL ISBELL
Pitcher for Packers

THE schedule of the Giants for the rest of the season presents a bright array of stars among the opposition. The Green Bay Packers are coming next Sunday, and that means the great pass combination of Isbell and Hutson. Hutson already has set a new National League individual scoring record, with 103 points. Catching those Isbell pitches piles up the tallies for Don.

After Isbell and Hutson have shown here, Giant fans will see the Chicago Cardinals, on November 29. That will mean the arrival here of Marshall Goldberg, who long has been a favorite with New York fans, ever since he starred for Pittsburgh against Fordham.

In the season's finale, on December 6, the Dodgers will come to Harlem, and that will throw into the local arena a whole flock of heroes, with emphasis on Mr. Manders, who gave the Giants a lot of grief in 1941. Pug, Bruiser Kinard and the rest of the Flatbush galaxy will be eager to make it two in a row over the Giants. It is recommended that you waste no time about looking into the ticket situation for that encounter.

Washington isn't all Sam

The Washington Redskins, playing the Giants at the Polo Grounds today, feature that great passer, perhaps that GREATEST passer—Sammy Baugh. However, the Washington outfit is not all Baugh—though Samuel is something terrific. Ray Flaherty has a well-rounded outfit, and among his stars are Andy Farkas, who is in his fifth season as a pro back, and Wilbur Wilkin, a great left tackle, also playing his fifth year in the pro ranks.

Giants Have Proud Honor Roll

THE Giants point with a tremendous pride to a lot of football players whom you will not find on this field today. They are keen about their long and impressive honor roll, the roster of men who left the club for the various branches of our national service.

Already the 1942 roster of the Giants has sent two men into the armed forces—Johnny Chickerno, the back, who is with Army aviation, and Keith Doggett, who is in the Army, too.

The veteran Ed Danowski, famed as a passer for the Giants and Fordham, is in the Navy, and George Franck, who was a marvellous back last year, is in Navy Aviation. The Giants and the fans of New York salute them all. Here is the complete Honor Roll:
